

AfrAsia Bank Blog Code of Ethics

We will:

- ✔ Be honest in our communications
- ✔ Acknowledge and correct any mistakes promptly
- ✔ Not publish comments if they:
 - are regarded as spam, off the topic, unreasonable, inaccurate or defamatory
 - are deemed to be disrespectful or spiteful to an individual or organization
 - contain abusive or offensive language
- ✔ Not respond to complaints through this blog. The blog is not a forum for complaints and if you wish to register a complaint, please see our Contact Us page
- ✔ Reply to comments in a timely manner
- ✔ Treat bloggers' opinions respectfully
- ✔ Respect confidential information
- ✔ Not link you to any sites where you are required to provide any personal information or log-ons
- ✔ Never contact you personally or request personal details. All responses to questions will be made through the blog.

Bloggers should:

- ✔ Present opinions respectfully and address the topic
- ✔ Be honest and fair
- ✔ Never submit information they know is inaccurate
- ✔ Make it clear what is factual information and what is opinion
- ✔ Treat topics and other bloggers with respect

Disclaimer

Articles listed on this site are for informational purposes only and do not serve as investment advice or as a recommendation of the products or businesses described within. Some links and content on this site are advertisements. All site content and links shall not be construed as a recommendation to buy any financial product.

Privacy Policy

This site does not collect identity or contact information from internet users to this website. This site may however, collect non-personally identifiable information, for example, browser type, operating system, time spent on the web site, or referring link. This is done via a counter by sites like Google Analytics.

Comment Policy

Constructive criticism is welcome, we all benefit from such advice. Rude, mean, or obnoxious comments are not welcome and may be removed. Comments with offensive language, spam or comments that infringe on copyright material are also not permitted and may be removed.
